

NORTH HAVEN.

Dec. 5.—Rev. H. W. Pope of New Haven is holding a series of gospel meetings this week. The first lesson was on Sunday morning from the scripture text found in the Fifty-second chapter of Isaiah, the second in the evening and the third a Bible lesson on Tuesday afternoon. All well attended and of much interest. All are welcome.

The ladies of St. John's church held their annual Christmas sale this week on Wednesday evening, December 4. Much has been done to make this entertainment equal to any given by the society and it is hoped that many will attend and be glad and rejoice that the time.

The three-year-old heifer belonging to Mr. R. W. Smith, which gave twenty quarts of milk per day last spring, still continued a good milker and gives sixteen quarts per day at the present time.

Mrs. F. L. Smith expects to leave for the south on Monday, December 9, to remain through the winter on account of her health.

The person who found a lady's dark brown silk glove in or near the Congregational church last Sunday will confer a favor by informing the "Courier" correspondent.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Smith and their two children spent Thanksgiving with Mr. R. W. Smith's family and remained to their home in Rahway, N. J.

So much is said in the papers about the loss of poultry by skunks that it may not seem out of place to say that a family in North Haven lost two valuable hens in one evening last week by one of these animals, which was seen and frightened by a member of the family, but afterwards came back for another victim.

The service in the Congregational church on Tuesday evening was more fully attended than any of the preceding meetings. The usual exercises were very much enlivened by a band of notes followed from Cheshire, several of whom gave their experience of being rescued from the depths of sin and in temperance through the labors of Mr. Pope in that place about a year ago.

Brother Carey stated that forty-five years ago he was a waiter in the streets without friends or home and he was picked up and brought to North Haven by a resident of this place, who gave him a home and brought him into this church and Sunday school, to which he was under a debt of deep gratitude.

The president of the Fair Haven and Westville Street Railway company tendered the free use of a special car to the Eaton brothers of Montwese for Thanksgiving day. At their invitation there were in the party R. O. Eaton and family, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Eaton, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Eaton, Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Simons, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Robinson, G. I. Cooper and family, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Brocklester of Montwese, C. T. Driscoll and wife, and Mr. and Mrs. Porter from North Haven and Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Linsley and Fred Blacklee and family of North Haven. They started for Montwese about 2:30 and went to Westville, the Yale Field, to West Haven, returning to Montwese about half-past six. Refreshments were served at several points on the route, making it a very enjoyable occasion.

A SAD BEREAVEMENT.

Miss Grace Louise, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin R. English of Whitney avenue, died very suddenly yesterday morning after only a week's sickness. Miss English was taken ill about two weeks ago at St. Agnes school, Albany, where she was attending, and was brought home. She failed rapidly and for the last two days Dr. B. H. Cheney had been in constant attendance, later calling in Dr. Russell. She lingered along till 10:30 yesterday morning, when she passed away, surrounded by all the family. She was conscious to the last. Mrs. English, who is troubled with nervous prostration and also was ill when Miss English fell ill, is now seriously prostrated. Miss English was only eighteen years old and has left a large number of friends to mourn her death.

Besides her father and mother she leaves two older brothers, James E. and Benjamin F. English.

The funeral will take place Saturday at 2:30 p. m. at the residence of the family.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY MEETS

THE FIRST ANNUAL CONVENTION OF WESTERN CONNECTICUT.

About Fifty Delegates Present—Officers Re-elected—Addresses by Miss Louise Hodgkins, Editor of the "Friend," and Others—Christian Fidelity During 1900 Years—Work With Children—Some of the Delegates Present.

Representatives from the branches of the Women's Foreign Missionary society in various parts of the state assembled yesterday to the number of about fifty at the First Methodist church in this city, the occasion being the first annual convention of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of western Connecticut. The convention was called to order at 9:45 by the president, Mrs. J. C. North of this city and the first fifteen minutes were devoted to devotional exercises, which were led by Mrs. North. The minutes of the last year, as well as the society organization, were read and accepted. After which Mrs. C. E. Thompson of this city the corresponding secretary read her report, which showed that $247 had been received from the auxiliaries this year as against $147 last year. Four new auxiliaries and one mission band have been formed during the past year and all the reports from the auxiliaries show them to be in a flourishing condition. The report of Mrs. C. M. Raymond, the treasurer, showed the receipts to have been $32.50, the expenditures $22.36, leaving a balance of $10.14. A report of the committee on by-laws was to have been read but it was deferred until the next meeting.

Mrs. W. A. Richards spoke on "Echoes from the Branch Annual Meeting" and told of the last meeting of the New England branch of the society. An interesting paper on "The Religions of India" was read by Mrs. N. G. Cheney, in which she spoke of the heathen religions in India, especially of the Hindoos and Mohammedans.

At 12:30 an adjournment was taken and the ladies repaired to the church parlors, where a lunch was served by the ladies of the First Methodist church. The convention reconvened at 2 o'clock and for a half hour the various delegates gave instances in which the work is progressing, the meeting being led by Mrs. H. E. Wing of this city. Mrs. Louise Dineker then sang a solo, "The Beautiful Land on High," after which Miss Louise Manning Hodgkins of Boston, editor of the "Woman's Missionary Friend," gave an address. She said that not long ago she visited Blenheim castle, the ancestral home of the Duke of Marlborough, and in looking over the palace she noticed that many picture spaces in the art gallery were vacant and on inquiry she learned that the pictures had been sold to pay the debts of the present duke's father and in the library found that a large part of the once famous library had been sold to pay the debts of the duke's grandfather. As she went from Blenheim she thought not of the victories of the great warrior duke of Marlborough, to whom the estate was given, but of the faithlessness of the trust imposed upon them by the succeeding inheritors of the title in spending the estates in gambling instead of handing them down in the family.

much the same way the entire world for 1900 years has been fruitless to the trust imposed upon it. If this trust had been kept the entire world would now know the Lord. In the first century Christians made it the work of their lives to do for Christ and at the end of that century 500,000 people were pledged to tell the story wherever they went. During the next 500 years this fidelity gradually came to an end and then from the fifth to the tenth century were the dark ages. In the tenth century fidelity began again and under its impulse the church grew to a membership of 20,000,000. People then grew greedy for money and this caused faithlessness to the spiritual trust. At the end of the Reformation there were 135,000,000 Christians in the world. After the Reformation came another period of infidelity beginning about 1660. Now the time of organization and missionary societies has come.

During every age the method of Christian work has differed. In the time of the Inquisition the same spirit prevailed among Protestants as well as among Roman Catholics, and this is shown in the religious persecutions in England and the banishment of Roger Williams from Massachusetts. In the early part of the present century came missionary societies which took up the apostolic method taught by Christ, and these organizations are now doing wonders. At first the societies took the form of women's cent societies and the one in New Hampshire raised $50,000. Missionary societies have now formed and formulated themselves, so that the woman who does not belong to some one is out in more ways than simply not being a member.

It is a great work to make a child ready for the world, but it is a greater work to make the world ready for the child, and this women are now striving to do.

At the conclusion of Miss Hodgkins' address she was tendered a vote of thanks by the convention.

A collection was then taken up and Mrs. Dr. Munroe of Meriden sang a solo, which was followed by an address on "Children's Work" by Mrs. L. F. Harrison of Worcester, Mass., superintendent of the child's work of the New England society.

Mrs. Harrison said that grace-like flowers must be planted in the springtime—in the springtime of life. In children's work we can look ahead and see the results sure to come. Impressions are sure to be made on a child's mind which will never be effaced. To make monuments which will walk, talk and think is grand. Mrs. Harrison also spoke of the value of the society of Little Light Gatherers for very young children, and stated that she was desirous of organizing a society in this city.

The committee on resolutions, Mrs. H. E. Allen of Meriden and Mrs. M. W. French of this city, reported a resolution thanking the ladies of the First Methodist church for their entertainment of the delegates.

The following officers were re-elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. J. C. North of New Haven; corresponding secretary, Mrs. C. E. Thompson of New Haven; recording secretary, Mrs. G. C. Boswell of Litchfield; treasurer, Mrs. C. W. Raymond of Bridgeport. The convention closed with the singing of the doxology.

Among the delegates present were: Mrs. Young of New Britain, Mrs. Dr. Thorpe of Hartford, Mrs. Avery of Mt. Vernon, Miss Sadie Manville of Ansonia, Mrs. Dr. Kidder of Shelton, Mrs. R. A. La Tour and Miss Bertha Pickle of Ansonia.

ASHES TO ASHES.

Apparent Death and Cremation.

(From the Tribune.)
The occasional occurrence of premature burial is a fact proven beyond doubt. The exact number of cases will, of course, never be known. To ascertain it would under the present conditions require the disinterment and examination of every buried body, and the experience gained by it would be of value only as emphasizing the necessity for utmost care and absolute certainty in the certification of death.

Among the comparatively few cases of disinterment for purposes of removal one has occasionally been found where the imprisoned victim in the agony of despair had torn his flesh, hair and clothes and had turned over on one side or on the stomach. Referring to the last named condition, a London paper, while not disputing the fact, recently suggested that the change from the original position in the coffin might have been brought about while carrying the body down several flights of narrow stairs. We doubt the possibility of it. Of the sixteen hundred bodies brought to Fresh Pond, over one-half of which came from tenement houses and had been carried down from two to four stories, not one was ever found upon the customary opening of the coffin, in the presence of superintendent and undertaker, to be in any other than the original position, flat on its back. Admitted even that rough handling or an accident to the coffin might have brought about a change in position, it could not possibly account for torn hair and clothes or bleeding limbs. The fact remains that there are cases where the buried are not really dead.

John Ryan killed.
Blown Up in an Explosion of Dynamite—Was Heating a Cartridge.
John Ryan was blown up in an explosion on Prospect street yesterday morning, and died fifteen minutes afterward. He was employed by a contracting firm, and was engaged in making a sewer connection in front of the residence of Professor Schwab of Yale. He was about to begin a blast and was heating a half pound dynamite cartridge over the fire when it exploded and killed him. Ryan was forty-nine years old and leaves a wife and several children in this city.

Social Science.
A meeting of the Social Science club was to have been held last evening, at which James L. Cowles was to lead the discussion on the subject, "Reform in Street Railways." but a quorum was not present and the meeting was postponed.

What a vast amount of misery and suffering has been prevented by the clear-headed foresight of one noble woman! She had struggled, labored, and sacrificed for the welfare of her sex. The eyes of the world were upon her.

As she recalled the past, and tried to penetrate the future, a smile of supreme satisfaction passed over her honest face as she remembered that her life's work would be perpetuated.

The room in which she sat contained hundreds of volumes of records; and, turning to her daughter, she said,—"My daughter, this room, as you well know, contains the records of my life's work, in which for many years you have so diligently assisted me."

quartet singing; piano solo, Miss Eva Hall. Dancing will be one of the attractive features.

The board of burgesses will meet this evening, and one of the principal matters of business will be the appointment of police officers. At the first meeting of the board Officer Mooney was reappointed, and on the second officer there was a tie between Officer O'Reilly, the present officer on duty, and Thomas Kennedy, a new aspirant for the police force. As the warden declined at that time to cast the deciding vote the matter went over and will come up at this evening. A petition asking for the re-appointment of Officer Dan O'Reilly as night patrolman will be presented to the board this evening.

The paper has been numerous signed by many of our prominent citizens who believe it would be a great injustice to that officer to drop him at this time when there are no charges preferred or intimations made that he has in any manner failed to perform his duties as an officer.

Oasis encampment, I. O. O. F., of Meriden and the grand lodge officers will be the guests of Friendship encampment this evening. Roast pig will be one of the interesting features at the banquet.

The new officers of the Congregational Y. P. S. C. E. are Noah Linsley, president; E. S. Hall, vice president; A. L. Judd, recording secretary; Miss Florence Waterhouse, corresponding secretary; Arthur Smith, treasurer.

William R. Cook, Amos Ives and Charles R. Lamb are the jurors selected for the common pleas court in New Haven next Monday.

Harry Worrall will sail from New York for England on Saturday, December 14.

The T. A. B.'s will devote the $500 donated by E. H. Rich to a fund for a library. The sum will be christened the Rich library.

The condition of Mrs. M. B. V. Cook of Constitution street is extremely critical and her death is a matter of a few days, or perhaps only a few hours.

Deputy Sheriff Booth found two drunken Italians laying besides the road early last evening and locked them up. In their pockets were found three bottles of whiskey.

A meeting of the Social Science club was to have been held last evening, at which James L. Cowles was to lead the discussion on the subject, "Reform in Street Railways." but a quorum was not present and the meeting was postponed.
